

MRS. HALL BEFORE PROSECUTOR

To-Night's Weather—FAIR.

To-Morrow's Weather—FAIR.

THE EVENING
WORLD
FINAL EXTRA

The

"Circulation Books Open to All."

The Evening

World.

"Circulation Books Open to All."

THE EVENING
WORLD
FINAL EXTRA

VOL. LXIII. NO. 22,161—DAILY.

Copyright (New York World) by Press Publishing Company, 1922.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1922.

Entered as Second-Class Matter Post Office, New York, N. Y.

PRICE THREE CENTS

FRENCH ASK TURKS TO HALT; BRITAIN SAYS SHE ACTS ONLY TO KEEP WAR OUT OF EUROPE

Kemal Urged by Radio Not to Act Until Special Envoy Reaches Him.

BRITAIN HAS TWO AIMS.

Free Dardanelles and Peace in Europe Only Policy, Says Lloyd George.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 23 (Associated Press).—The French government has sent a wireless message to Mustapha Kemal Pasha requesting him not to take any action until the arrival of the special French emissary. It was learned here to-day.

LONDON, Sept. 23 (Associated Press).—The policy of Great Britain in the Near East is to establish the freedom of the Dardanelles under the supervision of the League of Nations. Prime Minister Lloyd George declared in a statement at a conference with the newspaper men this afternoon.

The British government, he said, had been impartial as between the Greeks and the Turks. He pointed out that a few weeks ago the Greek threatened to march on Constantinople and at that time General Harington, the British general in chief command at Constantinople, had warned the Greeks "in identical terms" as the warning now given to Mustapha Kemal Pasha.

Mr. Lloyd George in his statement said: "In view of the misapprehension as to the character of the difficulties which have arisen in the Near East I wish to make a statement as to the actual facts and position."

"I should like at the very outset to make it clear that any action we have taken during the last few days has nothing to do with the merits or demerits of the dispute between the Greeks and the Turks."

"Whatever settlement is effected on either Antolia or Thrace, that is a matter for determination by a conference between the Allies and the belligerents, and any steps we have taken to strengthen our military and naval forces in the Dardanelles and Bosphorus have nothing whatever to do with any considerations of that kind."

"Our action has been dictated by two supreme considerations. One is our anxiety as to the freedom of the seas between the Mediterranean and the Black Sea. That is the first and prime consideration in directing our actions."

"What happened in the late war has demonstrated clearly to the British Empire how vital the freedom of those various seas is to the security of the empire, to the protection of our commerce and to humanity in its broadest aspects."

"The closing of the Straits against us by a power which was probably more to Great Britain, and certainly to Great Britain and France together, than to any other power in the world, was an act of perfidy which cost us dearly. It was directly responsible

(Continued on Second Page.)

PRETTY BRONX GIRL SOON TO BE BRIDE IN A WAR ROMANCE

Miss G. M. Hoeltzer, a graduate of the Scoville School. She is well known in the upper New York smart set. It was at an officers' dance at Harvard College after the outbreak of the war that the couple first met. While on the other side Mr. Peterson corresponded regularly with Miss Hoeltzer, and when he returned to the States their romance was resumed.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hoeltzer of No. 1059 Tinton Avenue, the Bronx, have to-day announced the engagement of their only daughter, Miss Gertrude M. Hoeltzer, to Richard Grant Peterson of Worcester, Mass.

Miss Hoeltzer is a graduate of the Scoville School. She is well known in the upper New York smart set. It was at an officers' dance at Harvard College after the outbreak of the war that the couple first met. While on the other side Mr. Peterson corresponded regularly with Miss Hoeltzer, and when he returned to the States their romance was resumed.

Mr. Peterson served as an ensign in the submarine chaser flotilla for eighteen months.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 23.—Striking shopmen of the Erie Railroad and guards fought a pitched battle in the streets of Hornell last night. The fighting was accompanied by occasional gunfire, and was caused by the collision of an automobile in which two guards were riding and a machine of a former road employee.

Feeling in Hornell is running high since the storming of the police station early yesterday morning by a mob of 2,500 to effect the release of a girl, eighteen, arrested on a minor charge by a member of the State Constabulary here on guard duty.

GETS 1 TO 5 YEARS FOR DRIVING WHILE INTOXICATED.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 23.—Phil C. Valentine, son of a former President of Wells Fargo & Co., to-day is under sentence to serve from one to five years in San Quentin Penitentiary for driving an automobile when intoxicated, a charge to which he pleaded guilty yesterday. A woman in another car suffered injuries requiring the amputation of a leg, in a collision with Valentine's machine.

TIERNAN AND WIFE MAKE UP; WILL NOT SEEK SEPARATION

Testimony in Paternity Case Changed Conditions That Existed Before.

PUBLIC BARRED OUT.

This Should Have Been Done at the Outset of Trial, Is Declared.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 22.—The Tiernans are reconciled. The woman who sinned—and told the world about it—and the man who insisted that she bare her soul are going to keep their marriage vows "until death do us part."

When court opened in the paternity case to-day there were no spectators present. The gallery was closed to the public by order of the court who said "It should have been done long ago." The announcement was greeted with howls and hisses. A demonstration was given very much like that which has several times greeted Harry Poulin on his arrival in the courtroom.

Tears were in the eyes of Mrs. Tiernan to-day as she spoke of the reunion.

"Of course we have not worked out the plans for our new home life, but the professor and I have been drawn very close together by this terrible trial," she said.

"I don't care to speak definitely about our plans," Tiernan said. "However, there is every indication that the baby will be given a home and a name."

To-day attorneys hammered at evidence submitted by the defense—hammered to get witnesses to "remember" something which might substantiate the accusations of Mrs. Tiernan.

Witnesses for Poulin insisted that he attended church on all the occasions when Mrs. Tiernan said they met in Poulin's store.

To other questions the defense witnesses replied, "I don't remember."

(Continued on Second Page.)

STILLMAN DIVORCE DECISION NEXT WEEK

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Daniel J. Gleason, referee in the James A. Stillman divorce suit, said to-day that he would not file his decision at Carmel, Putnam County, on Sept. 25, as he had contemplated.

Mr. Gleason said he would file his report here late next week.

SET YOUR CLOCK BACK TO-NIGHT

New York Returns to Standard Time at 2 A. M. To-Morrow.

Before going to bed to-night set the clock forward eleven hours or else stop it for an hour. (Don't turn the clock back; it is bad for the works.) Turn your watch back if you want to (unless it is one of those inexpensive watches made by a clock manufacturer with a miniature clock mechanism.)

At 2 A. M. Sunday, daylight saving officially ceases and we go back to standard time, which we shall now use for another seven months, until next April 30. Commuters' trains will make the necessary adjustment in timetables. Monday all banks, stores, offices, business houses and the stock market will resume operations in accordance with standard time.

Church Divorce Law Tightened, U.S. Episcopalians in Convention Turning Down Views of Dr. Grant

House of Deputies Ratifies Action of Bishops Who Strengthen Barrier to Marriage of New York Rector and Mrs. Lydig.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 23.—Communicants of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States are forbidden to marry divorced persons except in cases where divorce has been granted on the ground of infidelity. This is the result of the action taken here last night by the House of Deputies of the General Triennial Convention, confirming a measure passed previously by the House of Bishops.

The former law of the church merely forbade clergymen to perform a marriage ceremony where either party to it had been divorced for a cause other than infidelity. The new canon does not provide punishment for members of the church disobeying it, but there is pending before the convention to-day a resolution by Bishop Cameron Mann of the Diocese of South Florida, providing for the ex-communication of persons re-marrying contrary to the divorce canon.

When the deputies acted, there were many seats vacant, many delegates having departed for their homes. Only a few deputies arose to ask questions and there was no opposition.

Resolutions offered by the Rev. Dr. F. W. Tomkins of Philadelphia, providing for the omission of all the section of the divorce canon which relates to permission being given to divorced persons to remarry in such cases as the single exception covers, and making the prohibition against re-marriage of divorced persons absolute, were referred to a commission which will make a study of the whole divorce canon during the next three years. The commission will report at the next general convention.

Two other resolutions of Dr. Tomkins, one requiring a certificate as to the health of persons to be married and another requiring that bans be published for three Sundays before an intended marriage, also were referred to this commission.

The concordant, an arrangement whereby Congregational clergymen may be ordained by Episcopal Bishops, also was ratified finally by the House of Deputies. In adopting the necessary canon to put the concordant into effect the House of Deputies accepted the amendment to the church law which the House of Bishops had approved.

The House of Bishops at the same time ratified the action of the House of Deputies in recognizing the ministry of healing.

The Bishops' action authorizes

(Continued on Second Page.)

Through Window Mother Sees Big Brown Bear Chasing Her Child

Gives the Alarm and Faints While Beast, Tame and Trained, Plays With Little One.

Mrs. Gretchen Humboldt looked out of her kitchen window at No. 430 Hackensack Plank Road, Secaucus, to-day to see if her five-year-old Emma, at play in the street, was in any trouble. Emma was.

Emma was making off up the Plank Road screaming in terror with a big brown bear—a real bear—lumbering after her.

At first Mrs. Humboldt thought it was a nightmare. She shook herself and looked out again. The bear was still there and was still after Emma.

Mrs. Humboldt ran to the telephone and without waiting to get a connection told the central operator about it as well as she could and uttering a piercing wail slumped into a dead swoon.

From the flat across the hall came Mrs. Jennie Doyle and threw cold water in her face and brought her around. When Mrs. Humboldt sobbed out her story Mrs. Doyle looked pityingly at her thinking she has become suddenly insane.

"Please, please, dear," wailed Mrs. Humboldt. "Go look out of the window and see what has happened to my Emma darling—if there is anything left of her. I can't stand it to look myself."

Mrs. Doyle went to the window. "Mrs. Humboldt," she said, "come here and look for yourself."

"Did somebody kill the bear before

MRS. HALL CROSS-EXAMINED FIRST TIME ON DOUBLE MURDER

FIRST PHOTOGRAPH OF MRS. HALL, WIFE OF SLAIN MINISTER

Widow of Slain Rector Taken to Office of Prosecutor and Closely Questioned—Officials Hear "Fireman Willie" Carried Notes From Rector to Choir Singer.

LAUGHERTY GETS MORE SWEEPING RAIL INJUNCTION

Wilkerson Rules Strikers Have Not Disproved Part in Violence.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Judge James H. Wilkerson to-day granted Attorney General Daugherty's petition for a national-wide temporary injunction against the striking railway shopmen.

The order will affect about 270 shops and 400,000 members of the six crafts belonging to the Railway Employees' Department of the American Federation of Labor.

Judge Wilkerson in a lengthy review of the case said the defendants could not deny knowledge and responsibility for the widespread violence which has marked the strike. Partial settlement of the strike, he held, has not affected the right of the Government to obtain a nation-wide injunction.

The court gave attorneys for the defense until 10 o'clock Monday morning to study the decision and prepare to argue the text of the injunction order which will be signed.

Attorney General Daugherty on Thursday presented the Government's proposed draft, which is even more drastic than the restraining order now in force.

"In his statement after citing numerous Supreme Court decisions, Judge Wilkerson said in part:

"None of the defendants in this case has answered the bill. Two have filed motions to dismiss and have presented affidavits which leave a large number of averments of the bill unchallenged on the record."

"The fact that the defendants have been acting is not denied. On the contrary, the defendants themselves have produced evidence of the closest association and co-operation on the part of the defendant organizations."

That the officers of the unions gave directions concerning the strike from the outset is likewise admitted. The only material question really in dispute on the record is the responsibility in law of the defendants for the large number of unlawful acts shown to have been committed, the most part of them by unknown parties."

Special From a Staff Correspondent of the Evening World.

NEW BRUNSWICK, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Frances Hall, widow of the rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist whose body was found on the Phillips farm beside that of Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, leader of the choir and wife of the sexton a week ago to-day, was summoned to the office of the prosecutor of Middlesex County, to-day.

It was the first time Mrs. Hall has been questioned away from her home. James Mills, the husband of the murdered woman, made a public protest against the contrast in the treatment given to him and the millionaire widow.

TARIFF CALLED MONSTROSITY BY FORMER GOV. COX

Voters Will Be Asked to Undo It at Polls, He Predicts.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23 (Associated Press).—Former Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio and Democratic nominee for President in 1920, declared here to-day in his first address since his return from Europe, that "the people this year will be asked to elect a Congress that will undo the present tariff monstrosity."

"But we will not lose sight of another great question—the international one," Mr. Cox added. "It will be most pertinent for discussion, however, in the great national forum of 1924."

HUGHES RETURNS IN RECORD TIME

U. S. S. Maryland Brought Him From Rio in 10 Days.

The United States battleship Maryland, with Secretary of State Hughes on board, anchored off the foot of 96th Street, North River, at 12.50 o'clock this afternoon. Captain Towers Symington, acting Commandant of this naval district, was at the wharf. Hall Kinsey, a representative of the State Department, was also on hand to greet the Secretary.

Secretary Hughes came ashore at 1.45 accompanied by Mrs. Hughes. His son, Charles E. Hughes, Jr., and the latter's wife, Chauncey Wadde, and Mrs. Wadde, who is a daughter of Mr. Hughes, came to the pier and went out to the Maryland in a small boat, returning ashore with their parents. Mr. Hughes said he would return to Washington at 3.15. Lieut. Commander Glenn Howe was in charge of the Hughes party.

The ship broke all records for speed in the trip from Rio de Janeiro by making the journey in 10 days, 16 hours and 10 minutes.

Advertisers Flock Where Results Are Greatest

The ability of World ads to perform the service required of them has been so satisfactory and efficient that for several years many business firms have and do now advertise in The World exclusively. Thousands of new advertisers added to those of long successful experience are the best evidence of The World's advertising power.

43,210 SEPARATE WORLD ADS. LAST WEEK

17,332 More Than Next Highest Newspaper

11,446 More World ads than last year

ADVERTISING TO LEAD MUST SUCCEED

Detective Collins went to the rectory and told Mrs. Hall she was wanted. She called her own automobile and went to the Court House, where Assistant Prosecutor Toolan of Middlesex and Prosecutor Beckman of Somerset with the detectives of both counties questioned her.

The subnormal individuality of "Fireman Willie" Stevens, brother of Mrs. Hall, has again come under scrutiny of the investigators.

Prosecutor Stricker has characterized Willie, a middle-aged man of an immensely wealthy family, as "having the mind of a six-year-old child."

Much has been said of his insistence on wearing a fireman's uniform, which he continued after the firemen of New Brunswick were organized into a paid body; his inclination for wandering about the poorer parts of the city gossiping and talking wildly at times; his grumbling over the meagre sums of money entrusted to him by the Rev. Mr. Hall who doled out his allowance, and his willingness to earn 50 cents a quarter, or even less by running errands.

But it was not until to-day that Mr. Stricker and his assistant Mr. Toolan were informed that Willie was employed as a messenger between the Rev. Mr. Hall, his brother-in-law, and the wife of the sexton. The story which has come to them from an intimate friend of Mrs. Mills is that Willie, child-like and unscrupulous, was counted upon to take the opportunity of carrying these messages as a privilege, and to have accepted gratefully the suggestion that secrecy was advisable because if his sister learned he was earning spending money in that way she might interfere.

Like a six-year-old child, Willie was willing to withhold small matters of that sort for a selfish reason, though he has always showed a bristling loyalty to his sister and a boyish adoration of her.

There came a time, according to Mr. Stricker's informant, when Willie was asked if he had ever seen or heard anything to make him think that the Rev. Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were exchanging messages or meeting in a way that others did not know about.

From this on, for some time, Willie continued to carry messages, but the contents of them became known to others than the two who were using him for a postman.

"The story may or may not be true," Mr. Stricker said to-day, "but I am satisfied that Mrs. Mills, who told the story to my informant, as she did many other things about her friendship with Dr. Hall, believed it to be true."

The prosecutor also wants to find out why the aged mother of the Rev. Dr. Hall, who is seventy-eight, left the rectory three years ago and went to live in the boarding house of the Mansu Hill facing Court House Square. The rector visited her there almost daily and took her out for walks and automobile rides. It was about three years ago that the congregation of St. John's began gossiping about Mrs. Mills and the members of

A FORD A DAY GIVEN AWAY FREE

Special Daily Prize for Four Weeks
For "What Did You See To-Day?"—See Page 7